COLOR USE

Typically the brand colors are used as soft tints in a layout with 100% tint color bands top and/or bottom to define a page and setoff the website or call to action (see sample I,II,III). Use of the color has been deepened and saturated for more dynamic applications (see sample VI).

SAMPLE I - BROCHURE

IF YOU SUSPECT A CHILD HAS BEEN A VICTIM OF ABUSE:

- Always report any suspicions of child abuse
You may save a child from further harm if you report your suspicions. If you have questions or you want to report suspicions of child abuse, call the Department of Children and Families Child At-Risk Hotline at 800-792-5200 or your local police department.

IF A CHILD DISCLOSES ABUSE TO YOU:

- Remain calm and thank the child for telling someone.
The child has undergone a potentially traumatic experience and could be more frightened by your response than the abuse itself. Be sure to thank the child for being honest and courageous enough to tell someone.
- Be sure to acknowledge that it is not the child's fault.
Child abuse is NEVER the fault of the victim. The child may feel ashamed and embarrassed or feel that they allowed the abuse to happen. Explain to the child that it is not their fault. They are not to blame and they are not in trouble.
- Encourage the child to talk openly.
In abuse situations a child tends not to trust people as easily, because the abuser has violated that trust. But once a child discloses abuse, he or she may feel like a weight is lifted off them. Encourage them to talk freely with you or someone they trust about what happened without pressuring them for answers.

1 in 5 children will be sexually solicited while online.

CARE FOR THE CAREGIVERS
Child abuse affects the entire family. Oftentimes, caregivers will ignore their own needs once abuse occurs in a family. If you find yourself in the position of needing to care for a child abuse victim and hold a family together, you must remember to take care of yourself as well. Talk to someone about the abuse, schedule self-care time, or join a support group. Always know that Children's Cove can make an appropriate mental health referral for caregivers as well.

SUPPORT GRAPHIC

The logo interlocking hearts are used on a large scale to create an interesting background, typically in a tint of the brand colors (sample IV and V); or to break a page into sections for a stronger, more dramatic effect (sample VI). This is not intended to be used to replace the Children's Cove 'house heart' logo graphic, only as a support graphic for the brand.

PHOTOGRAPHY

In general the focus is on children's fresh faces, minimizing background interest. The subject can be boldly looking at the camera or reflectively turned away and looking down, they also can be happy or sad. Some adults are included in the same style typically with their focus being on a child.
