

KIDS AND TEENS

I recognize that the online sexual exploitation of children is a very real issue, and, I can do my part to make the internet a safer place for all children. By having conversations about safety, being open and involved in our online lives, and talking about situations which are unsafe, or which make us uncomfortable, we can be safe online.

I pledge to:

- Respect myself and others in everything I do online.
- Stop talking to someone online if they make me uncomfortable, as I would in real life.
- Involve my parents in what I do online, follow rules of safety, and talk about things that make me uncomfortable.
- Tell a trusted adult if someone asks me to do something unsafe online, such as send pictures of the private parts of my body, or give any personal information about myself or someone else.
- Talk with a trusted adult if someone online asks me to meet them in real life, and never to meet someone I've met online without an adult.
- Understand that not everyone online may be who they say they are – and they may try to hurt me.
- Understand that nothing online is really private, no matter what anyone tells me, and that anything sent or posted is forever, even if it seems to "disappear."
